I had a fight with my best friend.

It was a misunderstanding and none of our fault,

but we argued and she didn't talk to me for weeks.

LINE Webtoon

ROAR STREET JOURNAL

The Art of Zooming Out

ROAR STREET
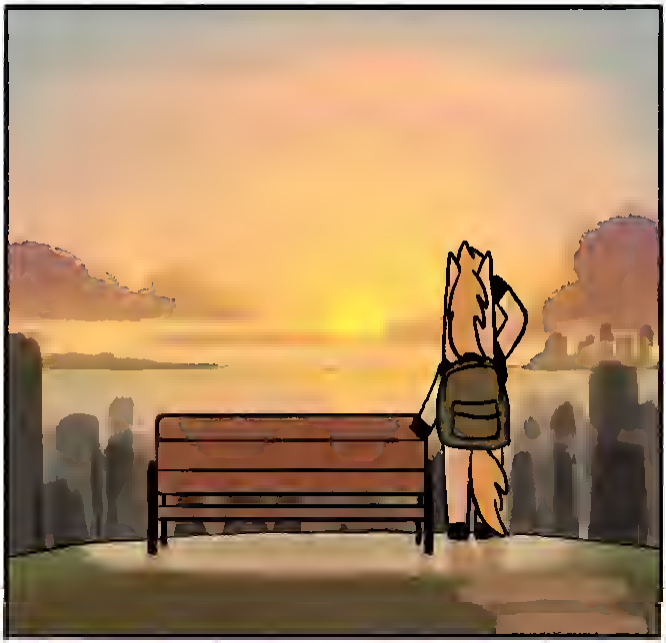
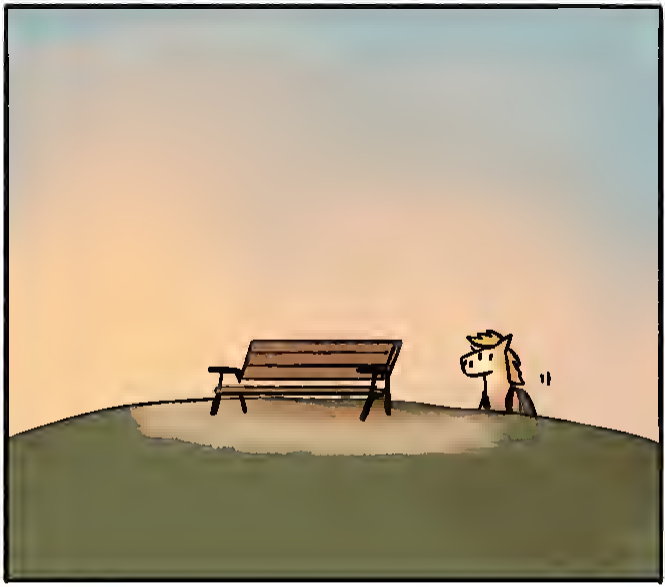
JOURNAL

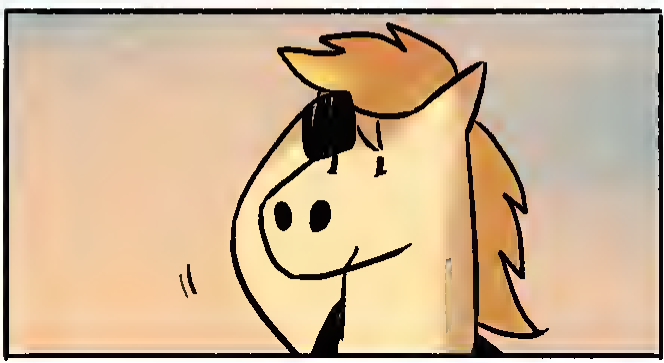
Marie
last seen: 3 wk ago
I'm really sorry, are you alright now?
Can you tell me what's troubling you?
I'm alright
Sorry, please give me some time

I was really sad and confused about what I did wrong.



I almost forgot that the world is so big and beautiful.





I'm just a one individual among so many others

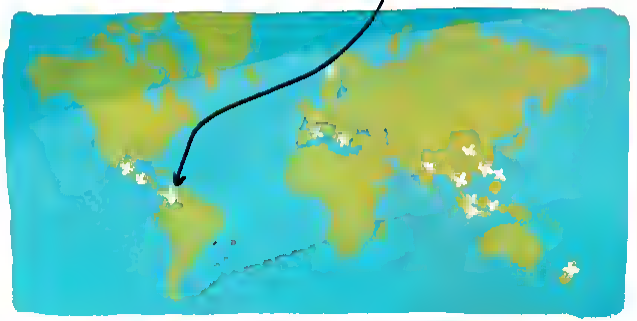
living on this wonderful planet.

Animals Around The World #16

sandovalalmeyda

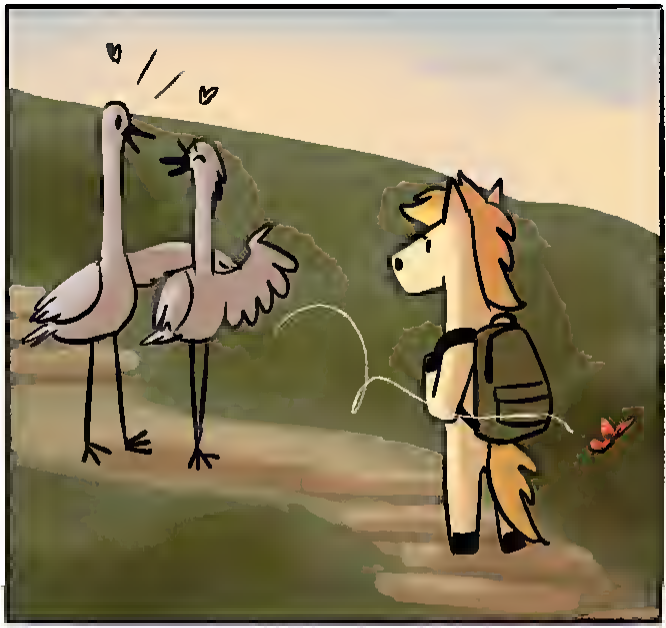
I'm from Colombia and the national animal is the condor :D

Readers from Columbia!

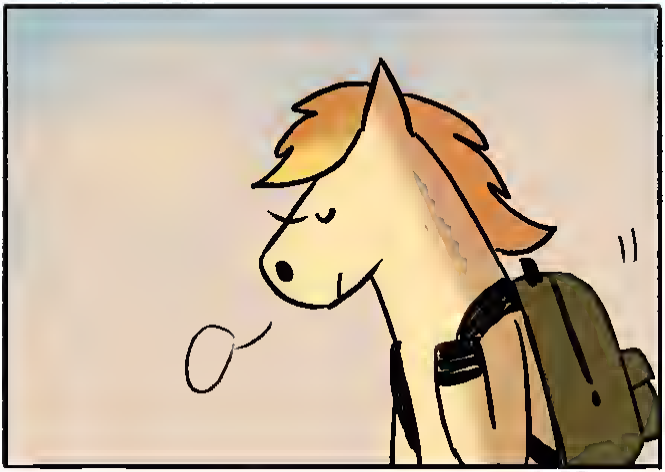


Suddenly, my worries seem so small and insignificant.

The Andean Condor is one of the largest birds of prey in the world, and in the Andean culture it was believed to be the ruler of the upper world!



Time passes and life continues.



. . . so we can look at this beautiful world together again.

Zooming out made me realize life is short and

I shouldn't dwell on unhappiness for too long.

Each of us is like a grain of sand in the vast universe.

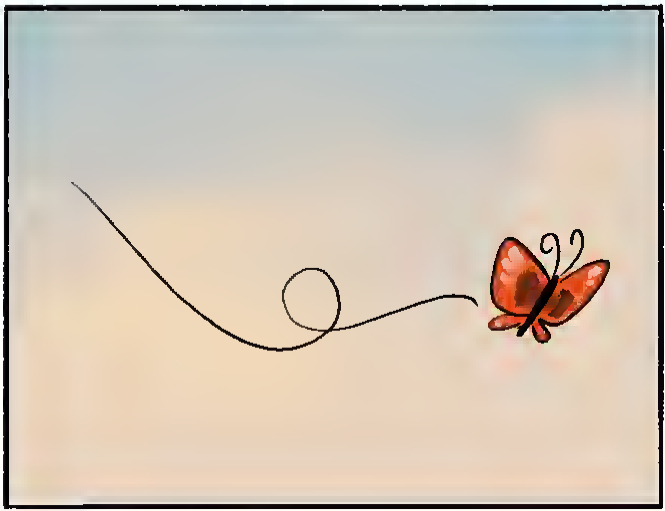
All this time I was stuck feeling upset about myself,

the world rotates around me like nothing's happened.



If I zoom out further...

I hope my best friend can realize it one day too...

I couldn't stop thinking about it all day,

so I decided to go for a hike to clear my mind.